

Information about the Case

Integration Case

The Integration Case will be open and available from July 16, 2026.

Purpose of the Activity

This mini-case is designed as a final integration activity for the course. Its purpose is to help you bring together the main concepts, methods, and tools covered in the previous lectures, and to apply them in a more realistic and structured setting.

Before You Start

Before attempting the case, we strongly recommend that you complete all previous lectures and review the corresponding materials. The activity is cumulative: it assumes that you are familiar with the key ideas introduced throughout the course, and it will be much more useful if you approach it after having worked through the earlier content.

Starter Notebook

The case statement PDF contains the full case explanation, including the context, required tasks, and deliverable expectations.

A starter notebook is also provided to help you begin the case. Use it to load the dataset, start the calculations, and fill in the required parts of the analysis. The notebook is not a complete solution; it is a structured starting point for your own work.

Learning Objective

By completing this mini-case, you will have the opportunity to consolidate your understanding, connect the different parts of the course, and practice applying your knowledge to a concrete situation.
